Irma Fair Day and Sports Wednesday, August 13th

IRMA SPORTS WED. AUGUST 13

Irma and district are holding their annual sports day on Wednesday, August 13th. The program consists of a football match between Phillips and Irma; baseball game between Phillips and Irma; tug of war, races, athletic events, and other attractions.

The talkies are now installed at Irma and a one hundred per cent talkie picture will be shown previous to the dance in the hall at night. John Fletcher is president, and W. Masson, secretary of the sports.

CEREAL CROPS FIELD DAY AT DOMINION EXPERIMENTAL STATION, LACOMBE, ALTA. ON AUGUST 20th, 1930

The annual Cereal Crops Field Day will be held at the Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, on Wednesday, August 20th. This will be a day of special interest to all farmers interested in the growing of good crops, but particularly will it interest members of the Seed Growers' Association and Co-operators who are growing varieties under numbers.

The Dominion Cerealist, Mr. L. H. Newman, will be at the Station on this date and will discuss all questions pertaining to varieties and crop improvement. It is possible that the date, August 20th, may be a little late for some farmers but it is the earliest date on which we could arrange for Mr. Newman to visit the Lacombe Station.

A meeting of the Alberta section of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association will be held at the close of the field meeting.

All farmers are invited to visit the Station for this field day. Bring your family and invite your friends. Coffee will be provided for lunch under the trees. Make this a day of pleasure and profit. Programme to commence at 1:30 sharp. — F. H. Reed, Superintendent.

GRAINS GROW STEADIER AS HARVEST NEARS

Unfavorable crop weather, both on the American continent and overseas, which was responsible for advances in United States markets, shot the Winnipeg wheat market to higher levels today.

The close was near the top price of the day, ranging 3-5 to 4-1-8 cents above Saturday. May reached $1.02 1-4 a bushel as compared with the week end close of 97 3-4.

Pit operations, which included scattered selling by commission houses, were quite brisk for a market lacking foreign demand as the result of a holiday at Liverpool. Volume of trade for the session was quite large.

Fears that rust had made headway, following the humid weather the past few days on the prairies, were expressed today, but definite report of damage from this source are lacking.

Cash wheat was in good demand, but offerings were light and only odd cars changed hands. Cash coarse grains trade was dull, while the futures showed advances in sympathy with wheat.

BEE-KEEPERS FIELD DAY

BEE-KEEPERS FIELD DAY
Arrangements have been completed for holding another field day for beekeepers, at Irma, Wednesday afternoon, August 20th, at one of the apiaries of H. W. Love, quarter mile west of Irma. Mr. Hillier, Provincial Apiarist, and others will be on hand to demonstrate handling bees and answer questions of interest to beekeepers. A similar field day was held last spring when some fifty enthusiastic farmers met and discussed bees. Since then the bees have been busy working on the flowers and a wonderful crop of honey has been secured. Everybody is invited to attend this meeting, and an interesting time is assured. In case the bees should suspect that you are looking for some of their stores it will be advisable to bring a veil. Last spring veils were not necessary but at this time of the year the bees are not always in as good humor.

HONEY DEMONSTRATION AT LOCAL STORES

Miss L. Milne, teacher of Home Economics, at the Vermilion of Agriculture, will give demonstrations on the "Use of Honey" in stores in the following towns: Montgomery's, Wainwright, Monday, August 11th; Rutland's, Hardisty, Tuesday, August 12; V.A. Hardy's "Red & White" Viking, Thursday, August 14; McFarland's, Friday, August 15th. Miss Milne will have a large display of Cakes, Candies, Preserves and a lot of good things to eat in which honey has been used. Come to one of the above stores and find out the many advantages of using honey. "Nature's best sweetener." Don't forget the dates, the demonstration will only be on in each store the one day.

900th ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED TUESDAY BY NORSEMEN

The 900th anniversary of the introduction of Christianity into Norway by Olav Trygvasson, was celebrated in Camrose Tuesday, by more than 1700 Norsemen. It was indeed an historical event for all who took part in the program. Not only in Camrose was the event celebrated but in every country where Norsemen are to be found. The celebration throughout the world will be recognised as an important chapter in the history of the Norsemen.

A spirit of praise and thanksgiving was prevalent throughout the entire Camrose program. The Evenson services in the Lutheran church were conducted in the Norwegian language by the Norwegian pastor. His text was: Rom. 5:1 "Justification by Faith," which is the central doctrine of the Christian religion. "Without this doctrine there can be no Christianity." The Lutheran Choir of Bawlf, under the direction of P. Bonas, rendered effectively the reformation hymn, "A Mighty Fortress is our God." Miss Gudrun Ness sang "How Lovely are Thy Dwellings."

After lunch a parade from the Lutheran church to the Skating rink via Main street, took place, led by the Crooked Lake Junior Band under the direction of Carl Jevne. Two appropriately decorated floats added to the impressiveness of the parade. The first float, represented a church, the front part being hung with Norwegian flags. About sixteen girls, dressed in Norwegian national costume, lent color to those in the procession. Approximately 200 people took part in the parade, which was followed by some 50 automobiles. — Camrose Canadian.

Something to worry about — It takes one hundred million atoms placed end to end to make one inch.

Heard at the poker party: "How can you bear to have all of these lies told about you?" "I don't mind it as long as they don't tell the truth."

What word of five letters is never right? Wrong.

"Waiter, I thought you said this was chicken soup?" said a patron in a Jarroo restaurant. "Yes, sir," replied the waiter. "But I can't find any chicken in it," the patron said. "Well, really, sir, you wouldn't expect to find a horse in horse-radish would you?" the waiter replied.

VIKING

In closing Mrs. Hyalop said, that with a new government coming into power who must keep faith with the people and implement their promises, it was an opportune time for the ladies of the district to come together and study political economy. The next meeting of the Association will be duly announced in the Viking News.

One of the beauty spots along Main street is the space between the Chiswell, building and Clinton's store. This was fenced this spring and made into a garden. Instead of being an empty plot of ground where weeds formerly held sway, it is now a bower of bloom and flowers, a joy to behold. Another very commendable effort to beautify the home surroundings is the neat and well kept lawns and grove of trees that may be seen at the W. J. Brown and Paul Venstob residences. The results obtained here should spur others on to help make our town more beautiful and happy to live in.

The Viking garage opened last week under the management of A. S. Morrison; the new proprietor who recently moved here from Vermilion. He is rearranging the garage and making it more convenient for patrons. The garage which was built last year has already enjoyed a good share of public patronage under the former owner, Geo. A. Loader, and the new proprietor will endeavor to give even better service than in the past.

The moving pictures of the Sharky-Schelling fight were shown at the Viking Movies last week. Although quite indistinct there was plenty of action and the foul blow, that gave Schelling the decision seemed to give the new champ a great deal of pain. Outside of that the bout looked quite even.

The Viking ball team won the tournament at the Vegreville fair last Wednesday. The team all had their batting togs on and cleaned up the team from Andrew 17 to 2, then had a bite to eat before they took Vegreville into camp. The team has made a good record this year at several tournaments held in neighboring towns.

At the Camrose fair baseball tournament Vikings lost to Merms by the score of 7 to 3. On account of the tournament could not be finished but it has been announced that the games will be played at a later date.

Fred Otto, a former member of the bank staff here, arrived from Amisk last week, and is now employed at the N. C. Graham hardware.

Come to the Irma Fair Wednesday, August 13th.

WEEKLY REVIEW PROV. MARKETS

BEEF—Most of the choice beef stops at $6, but quality would get another 50c; good steers $5.50 up; medium $5@5.50 common $4@5. Choice heifers at $6.25; good $5.50@5.6. Choice cows, $5@5.25; good $4.50@5; medium $4@4.25.

STOCKERS-FEEDERS — Market taking care of limited receipts at fairly steady prices, but tops a little lower on feeder steers.

HOGS—After lower prices, Edmonton buyers also stepped up and Wednesday's sales on bacon were $11.15, fed and watered, with selects $12.25, and the butchers $35 3/4 premium, and the butchers $35 3/4. Cuts on off grades unchanged.

SHEEP—Edmonton trading in sheep very dull, and market shows weaker tone on anything offered.

Lambs from $6@7.50; yearling $5 @5.50; ewes $2.50@4.50.

GRAIN—Increasing visible supplies of world wheat which have risen greatly in the past week, broke prices to a new low level this week. On top of this there are low priced offerings of Russian wheat; the increase in the estimate of the German crop, and also lowering of the estimated quantities that France would have to import were all bearish factors. Thrashing returns from American states, where work is going on, indicate larger yields than were anticipated.

Canadian prairie province crops maturing favorably and wheat cutting started in a few isolated spots.

CREAM—Creamery receipts indicate cows have passed best production. Prices unchanged and nothing indicates fluctuation in near future.

POULTRY—Though it is the off season for shipments, prices on fowl, most of which is in good shape, have been raised, with dealers paying 12c for No. 1 heavy birds and 10c for lights. Broilers are lower with colored breeds at 14c and whites at 12c. Practically everything is going into storage.

EGGS—Some firms, which are turning receipts over immediately, have raised the price on extra small firsts, making them on a basis of 22 @24c for the best, and firsts at 20@22c, the lower quotation representing storage values on the eggs that will stand holding, but many of them are weak.

HAY—Hay is turning out well, according to reports in districts where there were early rains, but others it will be somewhat light, with most parts of the province getting some anyway. Wild hay cutting is general, and the upland price quoted by dealers is down to a $12.50@13 basis. Timothy cutting will be general soon and this also promises a fair crop. Dealers report the market quiet, but lots of inquiries as to movement from those who will have hay to sell.

HIDES—Notwithstanding recent reductions, it seems impossible to create any demand for hides from the tanners, especially on country hides. They are getting most of their supplies from the packers. This is the season when hides are at their best, but tanners claim to be stocked up with leather and are unwilling to lay out anything more for raw supplies.

WOOL—With shipments in small lots still on a basis of 7@8c, city deliveries, the movement in wool is still comparatively limited. At country points, where the buyers can make up a car load without delay, they are quoting 2@3c over the city quotation on small lots.

It pays to read advertising messages in this paper, week by week. They contain store news, and information of much value—offerings of bargain buys which mean money saved to the careful shopper! Incidentally, it is mighty poor economy to be without the local paper—its advertising news alone will, in the course of a year, more than repay in dollars and cents the price of the annual subscription.

"DEATH CAMAS" IS FOUND NEAR CAMROSE

Discovery of a poisonous weed in the Camrose district, hitherto unknown in this territory and extremely dangerous to livestock, is reported by the Camrose Canadian to have been made recently by T. Solfeet, weed inspector for divisions 1-6 M.D. of Lloyd George.

Finding a weed which he was unable to identify, he sent it to the Alberta department of agriculture in Edmonton, and on Tuesday it was returned with the report that it is the "death camas," one of the most deadly weeds to livestock known.

All classes of stock that can eat this plant are said to be injuriously affected by it, but apparently in this province sheep alone are poisoned by it. Other names for the plant are "poison camas" and "mystical grass." The death camas is a slender grass like plant, having a cluster of from five to seven pale-green narrow, grass-like leaves. In the centre of this cluster is an erect flower-stem from 5 to 25 inches high with numerous small greenish-yellow flowers. The leaves and the flower-stem grow from a perennial underground, onion like bulb. The leaves are thicker and more fleshy than those of grasses, and hence are more tempting to stock.

All parts of the plant contain the poisonous principles. The bulbs especially are very poisonous.

Probably the first symptom of poisoning in livestock will be stiffness in the legs and difficulty in walking. There will also be a disposition on the part of sheep to straggle from the rest of the flock. Frothing at the nose and mouth, rapid breathing, increased flow of saliva, regurgitation through the nose and mouth, sudden jerking of the head and intermittent spasms follow in rapid succession. Finally muscular paralysis takes place, the animal is down and unable to rise and a profound insensibility sets in from which the victim never recovers.

A booklet on "Weeds Poisonous to Livestock," issued by the Alberta department of agriculture, giving full information in the "death camas," may be obtained by writing this department in Edmonton. The booklet gives methods of treatment, means of preventing stock from eating the weed, how it spreads, together with pictures and a full description.

DON'T QUIT

When things go wrong as they sometimes will,
When the road you're treading seems all up hill,
When the funds are low and the debts are high
And you want to smile but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing you down a bit,
Rest if you must, but don't you quit.
Life is queer with its twists and turns
As every one of us sometimes learns;
And many a failure turns out to be
When he might have won, had he stuck it out.

Don't give up though the pace is slow
You may succeed with another blow;
Often the goal is nearer than
It seems to a faint and faltering man;
Often the struggler has given up
When he might have captured the victor's cup;
And he learned too late when
The night slipped down,
How close he was to the golden crown.

Success is failure turned inside out—
The triumph of the head of a fool.
And you can never tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems so far;
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit—
It's when things seem worst that you must not quit.

Your Vacation Pleasure

Prices Of Livestock Reveal Remarkable Strength Compared With Other Farm Products

In the price changes that have taken place in farm products, as also in other commodities, in the last 12 months, livestock food products stand up with outstanding strength. Lambs, hogs, and cattle—in that order—are now at a much higher level relative to the value of the same products a year ago than are butter, wool, wheat, and barley.

Prices for farm products in Canada have changed considerably since last summer and especially during expressed as a percentage of the prices existing in July, 1929, which are taken as the base of 100. The table on this page gives both the monthly prices and the percentages that each month's price for each item forms of the base price. In the chart only the percentage changes are shown.

A glance at the right-hand side of the chart will make it plain that at the end of the period three items, lambs, hogs and cattle, were well above butter and far above wool, the first half of 1930. The tendency of all classes of livestock, wheat, feed grain, butter, and wool, which are fairly representative of general farming, has been downward.

A noteworthy feature is that the price level of livestock has not dropped so much as that of other farm products and they are the only items to show seasonal strength within the last two months.

The accompanying chart shows the percentage changes in relation to each other and in each commodity. The monthly average prices as reported officially have been taken and the changes from month to month wheat, and barley in comparison with prices a year ago.

For the twelve months, therefore, it is evident that these three classes of livestock have declined less in price than other farm products and other commodities. They have shown fluctuation up and down, but their general level has been better maintained than in the other items.

If a lesson had to be pointed out it would be that meat-yielding livestock is a more productive form of farm husbandry than it is often considered. This is especially so in periods with the low levels reached by grains and other feeds.

Western Flour Mills

Industry Banks First In Manufacture In Alberta and Saskatchewan

The flour and grist mill industry ranks first among the manufacturers of two of the three prairie provinces. This industry comes first in both Saskatchewan and Alberta, and second in Manitoba. First position in Manitoba is held by slaughtering and meat packing, which is third in Saskatchewan and second in Alberta. Second position in Saskatchewan is occupied by butter and cheese, which is fourth in Manitoba and fourth also in Alberta. In point of production value, flour and grist mill products in Alberta, and slaughtering and meat packing in Manitoba were almost equal in 1928, the former having a value of $21,005,000, and the latter of $21,328,000.

Growing Exhibition Grain

Practical Suggestions For Preparing Grain For World's Grain Show

At the recent meeting of the Manitoba Seed Growers' Association at Brandon, Dr. McRostie, agronomist of the M.A.C., gave the following practical suggestions for the growing and preparing of grain for exhibition at the World Grain show in Regina in 1932.

Dr. McRostie stated that the first essential was to obtain good, clean seed, pure as to variety since the grain samples will naturally be thrown out. The seed should then be sown on clean land to avoid mixing from volunteer growth. Treating for loose and covered smut would avoid loss from this source. Sulphur dusting and early seedling would overcome the shrinking due to rust damage. A satisfactory sulphur dust can be procured from F. H. Wiley, 533 Henry Avenue, Winnipeg, and a small hand duster from the Niagara Sprayer Company, Middleport, N.Y. An application at the rate of 45 pounds of dust weekly from the time when rust first appears on the plants has usually given a fair control of rust.

In harvesting select the best sections in the field, put all of the types plants and any other grains since it is much easier to clean in the field than it is to clean later. Avoid any marginal material because it is usually later and somewhat coarser. All grain should be left to mature before it is cut. After cutting it may be as well to cure some both ways. If cured outside it should be put up in small sheaves in small stacks that are capped. If inside, it should be hung up in small bundles in dry well-ventilated rooms. For threshing a small rubbering thresher has given good results or it may be found advisable to thresh it out by hand.

In finally preparing the grain sample it is essential to obtain one with grains of similar size and shape. This can only be accomplished through great deal of painstaking work trying different sieves, different cleaners, etc.—Free Press.

Creates a New Record

Crop Report For British Columbia Is Very Gratifying

British Columbia's annual crop report issued by the Department of Agriculture shows that agricultural production for the year 1929 totalled $2,622,890, which is an increase of $3,968,047 over that of the previous year and creates a new record. While this increase is due to some extent to prevailing high prices, substantial increases are noted in the volume of production of livestock, poultry products, dairy products, grains, honey, wool, hops and vegetables other than potatoes.

Gatineau River

First Record Of The Name Of This River Appears In Year 1783

When Champlain in his ascent of the Ottawa River in 1613, reached what is now the state of the capital of the Dominion, on June 4, he noticed a tributary coming from the north. The river was the Gatineau. Champlain gives no name to it and as far as the Geographic Board of Canada is aware the first record of any name for the river does not occur till 1783. In that year Lieut. David Jones made a report to Governor Haldimand in which he mentions coming "to the River Lettine (Gatineau), and from thence about a league to Shoadear (Chaudiere) Falls."

Named By Franklin

Bathurst Inlet and Coronation Gulf

Named in 1821, Bathurst Inlet and Coronation Gulf were so named in 1821 by the celebrated Sir John Franklin, 1756-1846, who led his first overland expedition to the Canadian Arctic in 1819-22. The Gulf was so named because it was the Coronation year of His Majesty George IV. The name Bathurst Inlet commemorates Henry, third Earl of Bathurst (1762-1834), who was, at the time the name was given, Secretary for the Colonies.

The latest summary of conditions in the dairy industry by the Dairy and Cold Storage Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture affords some observations of interest.

Pasteurized butter graded during June, this year, amounted to 150,962 packages, an increase of 18,162 packages over the same period last year. For the year to date the 1930 figure at 288,511 is 8,024 packages ahead of last year.

Cheese graded during June, this year, totalled 206,178 boxes, or 17,384 boxes less than last year. The total for the year to date at 317,435 boxes is below last year, but there is an increase in the number of boxes graded "special" this year.

There was an increase of 245.66 per cent. in the volume of creamery butter in storage in Canada as at June 1, 1930, over the amount in store last year in the same date; and an increase of 499.87 per cent. in the volume of dairy butter in store. Creamery butter in store June 1, 1930, amounted to 10,798,828 pounds; dairy butter in store—361,035 pounds.

Cheese in store the same date amounted to 6,471,834 pounds, or 38.43 per cent. less than last year.

The export of cream and milk to the United States has practically ceased since the tariff of 68 cents per imperial gallon on cream came into formerly expired is now being made effect on June 18. Much of the cream into butter.

Creamery butter production in the Prairie Provinces shows a steady increase over last year—increases during May: Manitoba, 20.5 per cent; Saskatchewan, 7.7 per cent; and Alberta, 15.1 per cent over May of last year.

Pastures and Proteins

Work Carried Out Which Will Be Of Great Interest To Dairyman

The value of pastures depends very largely on the amount of protein-green feed—available to the green using them. In this connection the studies of "close grazing" now being made by experts of the Dominion Department of Agriculture are of special interest. While still in the experimental stage the work already done holds much of interest for the dairyman. Briefly put, the object of close grazing is to provide an adequate and continuous supply of green fodder from succulent new herbage growth. This is done through the division of a suitable field area into four equal sections. While the herd grazes for a week on one section the new growth, rich in protein, is developing in the others. In this way a new pasture with three weeks growth of new herbage is regularly available.

British Railways Are Progressive

Railways Preparing To Gain Control Of Air Services

Having acquired control of much of the motor-coach transportation in the country, railways of England are preparing to capture control of air services. Under powers acquired last year, the railways may operate airways. As soon as the large cities are in position to provide centrally situated aerodromes the rail lines will be prepared to run their own aeroplanes for passengers, express and freight, in combination with the train and steamship services. The railways expect to have within a year at least an 85 per cent. interest in all motor coaches in the country.

Says Churchill Is Real Port

American Visitor Is Much Impressed With Possibilities Of Northern Route

"Churchill has better prospects for a real port and a real city today than Chicago had when it was first started. The natural foundation for dock structures is stronger also." This was the statement of W. T. Miller, of Eldorado, Ill., veteran contractor of the northern states, made following his return from Churchill.

Mr. Miller is of the opinion the prospects for port facilities are 60 per cent. better and the cost of construction is 30 per cent. less in proportion to what it was at Chicago in the beginning of the city's history.

Mr. Miller was accompanied by John Vanduyke, also of Eldorado, who has been a locomotive engineer on United States railroads for many years past. He has been in the railway service for 28 years altogether.

Mr. Vanduyke says the roadbed on the Hudson Bay Railway is much better than he expected, and is of the opinion it is in excellent condition.

The two visitors said that when the Hudson Bay Railway is completed that tourists will flock to the north and that many will look over various prospects with a view of settling there.

The area of Canada is calculated to be 3,684,723 square miles, an area greater than that of Europe. Of this area only a small fraction has been adequately mapped. VIKING

Ten members of the local horse shoe pitching club motored over to Vegreville Monday evening and played a series of five games of 30 points each, total points to count. When the five games were finished Viking was only two points ahead, the final count being 582 to 580.

This was the third competition this summer between the local club and Vegreville and each time Viking has been on the long end of the score. Vegreville expects to be over next Monday evening and win what perhaps will be the final match for the season.

The Wainwright Club will be up Saturday evening of this week and try to lift the King Edward hotel trophy donated by W. E. Henton.

The trip to Vegreville was well attended to by President Angus Ross and Secretary Cartwright. The players were Amor Long, Angus Ross, Ben Runyon, H. G. Thunell, Jack Kelly, Bill Kelly, Andy McPherson, Jack Slavik, Tom Hoskins and Percy Main.

There was a good attendance at the meeting held in the Town Hall last Thursday evening under the auspices of the Viking District Ladies Political Association. Mrs. M. Hyslop, the president, during the course of her address referred to the victory won by the Conservative Party, pointing out specially the splendid majority the new government would have to carry out the various policies they presented to the people of Canada during the election campaign. She stated that the present ordinary revenue of the Dominion was $447,322,000 a year, and it was estimated that in order to fulfill the many promises made by Mr. Bennett it would require over two years' entire revenue or approximately $1,000,000,000. For example, Mrs. Bennett has proposed an all Canadian St. Lawrence Waterway that would cost $250,000,000 or more than the present international plan; he has promised to increase port facilities on the Great Lakes, Hudson Bay, Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, a Peace River outlet to the Pacific slope, the Mafeking cut-off to provide a shorter railway route from Brandon to the Hudson Bay. A second ferry to Prince Edward Island; a bridge to Halifax, another to St. John; Dominion contribution to provincial highways, that the entire cost of Old Age Pensions would be borne by the Dominion Government; to replace it with a turn over tax. Mr. Bennett says, tax the bread, the butter, the clothes, tax everything that a person uses, so that they will make some contribution to the State.

Although later reports to those obtainable for our last week's issue have changed some of the final figures, the result remains the same and Premier-elect Bennett will have the support of some 138 members in the next Federal parliament.

The latest figures now give the following as the standing of all parties in the final count to the Canadian Press Association:—

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

British Columbia's recent lumber mission to Australia will seek co-operation of the provincial government in securing a lumber tariff preference in that dominion.

The Italian council of ministers voted an appropriation of 100,000,000 lire, or about $5,230,000, to rebuild the stricken earthquake area of Middle Italy.

Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, woman leader of the Indian Nationalists, is said by the Daily Herald to be willing to compromise with the government somewhat short of Mahatma Gandhi's demands for independence.

The London naval treaty passed through all its stages in the House of Lords and only needed the royal assent before becoming effective. The bill gives legal support to the pact entered into at the recent London naval conference.

The visible supply of American grain at the end of July shows the following changes in bushels: Wheat increased 14,563,000; corn decreased 278,000; oats decreased 965,000; rye increased 39,000; barley increased 276,000.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald announced in the House of Commons that the government proposed to invite the leaders of the two opposition parties to nominate a representative from both Houses to participate in the round table conference on India which will be held this fall.

Great Britain's unemployment total is nearing the 2,000,000 mark. It was announced by the Ministry of Labor. The official statement said that on July 21 the number of persons out of work was 1,972,700, an increase of 32,831 in a week and 850,007 in a year.

Brandon police are looking for the person who passed an American one dollar bill off on a local hotel for $20. The bill was raised from $1 to $20 in such masterful style that the authorities are of the opinion that the country might be flooded with the bills. The work is thoroughly done and it was only when the bill had received close scrutiny at the bank that the deception was caught.

Premier Bracken Talks Over Radio Phone From Flin Flon To Winnipeg

From the staff house of the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Company at Flin Flon, Mr. Bracken and Bruce Bracken, his son held a combined radio and long distance telephone talk with Mrs. Bracken, Winnipeg.

The premier's conversation marked the first official test of the new radio phone system between Flin Flon and The Pas and the results were entirely successful.

Interesting Experiment

During recent experiments, Macconi has recorded air messages on a phonograph disc with perfect success. The experiment was made by the inventor while on his yacht lying near Genoa. The message was sent to Sydney, Australia, about 11,000 miles away. The recording was not only caught perfectly, but was re-transmitted from Sydney by wireless to the original sender.

Prefer Silent Film

Motion-picture fans of Denmark prefer the silent film to sound film to the sound film. Especially is this apparent in Copenhagen. The principal reason is apparently the linguistic difficulties, which the partial translation of texts has failed to overcome. Few Danes understand English.

Chinese Stowaways

Party of Six Have Narrow Escape From Death When Vessel Is Fumigated

Efforts of six Chinese stowaways to enter Canada aboard the British freighter S.S. Benary, failed when they reached New Westminster recently.

The sextette were fortunate to be alive after more than two weeks in a coal bunker aboard the ship, and especially after fumigation operations took place. By some chance deadly cyanide gas failed to reach the hold where the Chinese were hiding.

Officers who entered the hold declared it was a marvel they survived the ocean trip as it was probably worse than the famous "Black Hole of Calcutta." It was believed that Chinese members of the ship's crew kept their compatriots provided with food on the long trip.

The ship left Yokohama on July 4. After being arrested they were turned over to the Vancouver immigration authorities to await deportation.

Amended Grain Act

New Regulations Come Into Force On September First

By a proclamation in the current issue of the "Canada Gazette," the Grain act as amended shall come into force on September 1.

The act was re-written following recommendations made by the agricultural committee of the House of Commons and was passed last session.

A lengthy investigation of the operation of the act was conducted during the last two sessions of parliament and numerous amendments were approved. Several grades were given new definitions, clauses were inserted to prevent mixing of grades and the whole field of the act's operations was reviewed.

OUT DOOR LIFE CALLS FOR NOURISHING FOOD

By AMY SMITH
Well Known Domestic Science Authority

Off for a day or a month—in the car or hiking, boating, fishing—after a few hours you will find FOOD looms up as the biggest thing in the world. Scenery, yes—but such appetites!

Of course milk, and plenty of it, is essential for nourishing, appetizing food—and for campers or picnickers Borden's St. Charles Brand Evaporated Milk is by far the best choice, providing plenty of pure, rich milk, regardless of weather conditions, rough journeys, out-of-the-way camping places—and lack of ice.

Because Evaporated Milk has had half the water removed, you can rely on its extra richness, which can be utilized to take the place of eggs or butter in many kinds of cooking. For instance, an old guide, famous for his fish fries, told me that in camp he always dipped the fish in undiluted Evaporated Milk before the final cooking with cornmeal.

When Evaporated is to be used instead of milk in any recipe it should be diluted with an equal part of water. Remember, this simple rule, and you will find it successful in your own recipes. To "cream" your coffee, use it undiluted.

Speaking of Fish—

a "fry pot" is used by Canadian guides for cooking large chunks.

After dipping the pieces of fish in Evaporated Milk, they are dropped into the deep fat (very hot) and fry until brown. And, by the way, take this hint from a seasoned camp cook—a very little fire of the right kind in the right place (if you sheltered from the wind) will do the job better than a face-blistering conflagration.

For fish chowder is always a welcome dish in camp, and it's easily made with Evaporated Milk.

Cut the fish in chunks and remove as many bones as possible. Cover the bottom of an iron pot with slices of fat salt pork and fry out part of the fat. Remove part of the pork slices, then add a layer of sliced, raw potatoes some sliced onions and a layer of fish. Cover with pieces of hard tack biscuit and season each layer, seasoning the salt, for the pork is very salty. Repeat the process until the pot is two-thirds full. Add just enough water to cover to level of the fish. Cover the pot and simmer for one and one-half hours, or until the potatoes and fish are tender. Add one half can of Borden's St. Charles Milk. Bring just to boiling. Serve.

Easy Hot Bread

Hot corn breads to eat with the bacon, fish, or pork and gravy, are a huge success after a day in the open—or to begin the day.

Cornmeal Flapjacks

1 cup cornmeal.
1 cup flour.
1 teaspoon baking powder.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 cup Borden's St. Charles Milk.
1 cup water.

2 tablespoons melted fat (bacon fat may be used).

Mix and sift the dry ingredients. Add the milk, diluted with water, and beat well. Add the fat. Bake on hot, greased griddle or frying pan. They need a little longer cooking than wheat griddle cakes.

Camp Corn Dodgers

Put one quart cornmeal into a bowl. Make a hollow in center of meal and into this one tablespoon lard and one teaspoon salt. Pour over this equal parts Borden's St. Charles Milk and water heated to scalding, stirring all the time until a dough is formed which can be molded with hands. Cool slightly, form into cakes and cook slowly on a well greased griddle. (The quantity of diluted milk needed depends on the kind of cornmeal used.)

Pocketbook Lost Eight Years Ago Is Recovered In Cent Field

A pocketbook containing $35 lost eight years ago, was recently recovered by the loser. Back in 1922 Jacob Sligh, a Michigan farmer, was assisting his brother-in-law, Koene Vanden Bosch, harvest hay and lost his pocket-book. Vanden Bosch while cultivating corn in the same field spied the purse, so worn it fell apart when handled. It was carefully kept together and brought to its owner who turned it over to the United States treasury department for redemption of the currency it contained.

B.C. Hydro Possibilities

Greatest Water Powers in Canada Can Be Developed At Coast

The greatest water powers in Canada, greater even than those harnessed along the St. Lawrence, have been revealed along the coast of British Columbia, north of Vancouver, by government engineers, during the past summer. It is stated at parliament buildings, Victoria.

Preliminary reports indicate that in addition to the noted Tzeko Chik, Homatiko power, with a possible development of 1,200,000 horsepower, two other sources of electricity discovered bring the possible development of the coast district up to the huge figures of 3,000,000 horsepower.

The two new power sites, revealed by recent surveys, are at Tahla Lake and Estusuk Lake. By turning the waters of these lakes westward to the sea instead of eastward into the Fraser, engineers believe that 1,800,000 horsepower can be harnessed. The third project calls for the diversion of the Chiklo waters westward to the sea by the Homatiko River.

Wheat Pool Elevators

Up to July 16, 1930, the percentage of Pool Wheat delivered to the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool and passing through Pool Country Elevators amounted to 87.12 per cent, leaving only 12.88 per cent, as having gone through Line Elevators. The corresponding percentage of grain through Pool Elevators at the same date last year was 74.60 per cent.

A Strange Mongol Tribe

Have Qualities Of Wild Animals and Live In Caves

A tribe of wild men in North Manchuria, who never lie down, but always sleep sitting up with their feet crossed like Buddha's, so that they may rise and run in second, is described by a correspondent of a Chinese newspaper. The correspondent claims to have visited the tribe.

The strange people are called Orunchun, he declares, and they live in Kolombair, North Manchuria. They are so primitive that they have no social organization, no chief or elders.

The men of the tribe, says the correspondent, have the qualities of wild animals. They can out-run foxes and wolves, and often overtake and kill such animals. They hunt like wolves in bands, and do not hesitate to attack Manchurian tigers.

They have no homes, but seek caves and sheltered parts of the mountains in which to sleep. They usually travel by day.

The correspondent says the Orunchun have a spoken language entirely by their own, with a very limited vocabulary, but no written language. They speak in low tones very agreeable to the ear, much resembling the twitter of birds.

In winter they wear the skins of wild animals which they have killed, but in summer go naked. They do not understand cooking, and tear and devour the flesh of animals. They understand the use of bows and arrows, which they get from Russians, but cannot make them for themselves.

It is very dangerous to go among them, the correspondent says, and they are known to have killed several travellers who were unduly curious to study their habits.

Muskats For Scotland

Order Sent To Canada For Twenty Thousand Skins

Scotland knows a good thing when it sees it and has sent out a call for 20,000 Canadian muskrats of the finest type and color. Practically 90 per cent of all the fur coats made in Scotland today are of muskrat skins and the popularity of this type of fur is steadily on the increase.

Announcement has been made by the Ontario Grain Pool that the initial payment to members is based on 65 cents per bushel for numbers two, three and four red, white or mixed wheat, and 29 cents per bushel for number two white oats and barley at malting grade. With maximum deductions of local handling the payments net growers 60 cents and 25 cents.

Shortage Of Small Coins

French business men recently complained to the Ministry of Finance that there was an insufficiency of 50 centimes (approximately 2 cents) pieces in circulation and demanded a new stamp. The ministry estimates that there are 446,000,000 50 centime-pieces in circulation.

Feat Of Mountain Climbers

Eight Peaks Over Ten Thousand Feet High Are Negotiated

Eight peaks over 10,000 feet high, three of them unnamed, in the upper region of the Athabasca River and behind Maligne Lake, where the Canadian Alpine Club assembled at its annual camp, were reported to have been climbed for the first time with the return, after an absence of 17 days, of a party led by Dr. Max Strumia, of Philadelphia, and Dr. W. R. Hainsworth, of New York.

Accompanied by Newton Waffe, of Orange, N.J., and John F. Lehmann, of Everett, Mass., Strumia and Hainsworth first climbed Mount Christie, 10,180 feet high, from a high camp on Fryatt Creek. Later, climbing Mount Pelanger, 10,200 feet in altitude, they were within 50 feet of being swept to their death by avalanches and on their descent were held for three hours on a rock ledge (all the descending snow rendered snowslides improbable and their progress less hazardous).

An unnamed peak near Mount Wolley, whose altitude is placed at 10,700 feet, offered the greatest difficulty. Only by inserting "pitons" from spikes to which they could attach their climbing ropes—into the crumbling rock, were they able to attain its summit.

Climbing from the site of the Canadian Alpine club on Maligne Lake, they made the first ascent of three peaks of Mount Maligne, all over 10,000 feet in height, and mapped for the first time the tremendous ice fields surrounding it.

Dr. Strumia, who has climbed in Switzerland, France, Italy and North America, a total of 75 peaks and made 25 first ascents, said recently that during the trip just completed through Jasper Park he experienced some of the most difficult rock and snow work he has yet encountered. The party was outfitted by "Curly" Phillips.

CHAPTER XXIII.

If there had been any doubt that Wickfield would accept Doctor Howe's assistant, it was dispelled when he successfully removed Diantha Moore's appendix.

And no wonder, the old doctor said to Grandma, a week after the operation. "There wasn't time to take the child to the hospital. There wasn't even time to get a nurse. It's no easy thing to perform an operation under such circumstances. I felt like cursing the deacon for his parsimony in not having had his house wired for electric lights; but I'll say for Luella that her lamp chimneys shone like nothing before seen in heaven or on earth! And somehow, we did the job. The first week's past and no complications have arisen—except Edgar! He asked me tonight if they couldn't get along without the nurse we got from Portland the next morning."

"I presume that poor Luella will never hear the last of the expense," sighed Grandma, "but I shan't waste too much play on her because she put her head into the noose with her eyes open. Well, Edward, it's a long time since I've seen you to have a talk. With a doctor right in the house I haven't bothered you when I've had an ache or pain—not that I'll ever feel the same as that doctor that I do to you," she sighed loyally.

The old man smiled.

"I'm only a habit, Polly," he reminded her. "You can trust John Carter, take my word for it. It's going to be easier leaving you all when my time comes, knowing you're in good hands. It was a fortunate day for me when I brought him here."

"And fortunate for us, too, Edward. I don't know how we'd manage without him to tend the furnace now Charman's away all day. But you mustn't talk about leaving us. Whether we send for you or not, it's a comfort to know you're here. Maybe I'll go first, Edward, and be on hand to greet you in the heavenly kingdom!"

"Perhaps you will," the doctor admitted, smiling, "but I hope not, Polly. I'd rather know that you were down here keeping watch over Wickfield from this window, and making a home for that dear girl of ours. I'd hoped to see her settled before I go, with some good fellow to take care of her. I had a method in my madness when I sent John Carter to board here; but as far as I know my hopes have borne no fruit!"

"I don't mind admitting—to you," responded Grandma, "that some such notion has occurred to me. They're congenial, and though he doesn't look over and above husky, I guess Charman's strong enough to make up for anything he lacks. He's got a good disposition, and he's not fussy about his food. He's good to look at, too; but between you and me, Edward, I don't know what's keeping 'em apart unless it's Jimmy Bennett."

The doctor glanced up in surprise. "I had an idea that all that was settled before Jim went to California."

"Then you guessed wrong," replied Grandma with decision. "What made you think so?"

"Something Jim said to me before he went. I thought that was what reconciled him to leaving Wickfield. Well, it's possible that I misunderstood, and I'm not rooting for my young doctor if it's going to hurt Jim Bennett, Polly; you can bank on that. I never knew a finer, cleaner chap than Jim."

"Well," said Grandma, "I suppose these young folks will have to settle it themselves, Edward. The best meaning friends and relatives are not much use at such a time. But it looks to me as if Jim was destined to spend his life picking peaches for his mother."

"I'd rather he picked one for himself, Polly," said the old man whimsically. "As Edgar Purdie is fond of quoting: 'It is not good for man to live alone,' and no one realizes that truth better than I, I've had a happy life, and I hope, a useful one; but I never come into the day's work that I don't wonder how it would seem if Kate were there to greet me. No, I don't want either of those boys to live as I have."

"You'll come again soon," asked Grandma wistfully, as her old friend picked up his shabby bag, and prepared to leave.

"Yes, I'll drop in often. From now on I'm going to take things easier and see more of the folks I really care for. Good-night, Polly. Give my love to Charman."

He was as good as his word. As the relentless New England winter gave way to warmer days, Charman became accustomed to finding the old doctor sitting with Grandma when she returned from school. Yet he had not given up his work by any means. There were still some who would have none of the younger man while they could get the old; there were others to whom his very presence meant so much that he could not forsake them; and there were the poor and lonely who needed no medicine save his cheery greeting.

Spring was coming. His breath was in the air despite patches of snow, and he lingered tensely in shady places.

"I'm filled with a longing to clean house," said Charman, coming in on the two old folks one afternoon. "Pussy willows are out, though. I thought they'd never come; and the frogs are peeping."

She stooped to kiss her grandmother, and when the doctor said, "Haven't you another of those to spare, child?" she kissed him, too.

"You're to have supper with us, Doctor," she commanded. "We'll have a party—you and Grandma, and Doctor John and I. I've simply got to do something to celebrate the return of spring. I feel as if I could hardly wait for the first May flowers!"

"I'll stay," said the doctor. "Only don't make company of me, my dear."

"I want to make company of you," laughed Charman. "I feel exactly like company. I shan't get the gold-banded china and use the Davis teapot, though it's far too large. Here's John. If he's not too busy I'll make him help."

To judge from the voices and laughter issuing from the kitchen a bit later, the young man was not too busy to whip cream. Charman mixed up some biscuits, she strangled her pussy willows as a centerpiece, and got out the very last of Grandma's precious damask to grace the board. It was a gay little supper. The old folks recalled the past to their heart's content, while the young folks listened and laughed and sympathized. The young people did their share of the talking, too; and their audience was fully as sympathetic. Even a telephone call to South Wickfield for Doctor Howe, did not mar the party.

"And I'll go with you as chauffeur," declared John Carter, as the old man arose.

The doctor smiled happily at them all, and said: "I've had a beautiful time. Good-night, Polly."

He stopped, and with old-time gallantry kissed Grandma's hand, then turned to Charman and kissed her cheek.

"There are compensations for being over seventy," sighed John Carter, and they all laughed.

"Good-night," said the old doctor again as he reached the door. "Sweet dreams to both of you."

"Afterwards they remembered that he had stood for an appreciable moment looking back into the room, as if to impress the scene upon his memory. And that night, his day's work done and his house in order, the old man crossed the River, so gently, so peacefully, that he did not even know he had embarked.

CHAPTER XXIV.

Grandma sat at the window, looking out at a strangely deserted Main Street—waiting.

All Wickfield, she thought, must be at the church, paying the last tribute of respect and love to its old physician. The bank was closed; and the schools, also. Charman had begged to stay at home so that her grandmother need not be alone at this sad time; and Lizzie Baker had done likewise, "the tears dripping unceasingly down her cheeks as she implored: 'Please let me go. You mustn't stay here by yourself.'"

Salina Knowles had said: "I'll stay with you, Grandma. The doctor wouldn't want you to be alone."

But Grandma, refusing all these kindly offers, had replied gently: "I'd rather be alone, if you don't mind. It's what I want."

Doubtfully, sorrowfully, they had turned away, to be reassured by the young doctor, who, even more than Charman, understood the old lady's mood.

"Don't you see," he explained at sight of their troubled faces, "it'll be easier for her with no one by? She's not even as sad about it as we are. She knows that her old friend is not dead—he is 'just away.' Leave her alone."

So Grandma sat at the window, waiting.

"It's the worst of days that Edward always loved," she mused. "Spring is in the air, and summer's on the way. And he went just as he hoped he'd go. I remember he said only the other day, 'And may there be no sadness of farewell, when I embark.' He got what he deserved, a peaceful ending to a useful life."

What more could a body ask? He's with his Kate, whom he loved and mourned for fifty years. Maybe he's seen Father already, and told him how I sit by the window all day long watching the passing of time, and about Charman, and the neighbors.

For a moment she closed her eyes. Then the song of a bird in the elm tree broke the stillness, and she said softly: "The services must be 'most over now." He told Mr. Merry once to make 'em short—for him. Just the Lord's prayer (he wanted

Canadian Women Score Again

Canadian Women Greatest Travellers In the Summer Months

Another distinction may be marked up for the women of Canada. Last year a British artist publicly declared that in his opinion Canadian women were the most beautiful of their sex in the British Empire, and of course the women throughout the Dominion did not dispute what Canadians generally consider to be such an obvious fact. Now Canadian women are credited with being greater travellers than the mere men of their country—in summer. In one of the leading Canadian newspapers the following item recently appeared:—"Canadian women are great travellers—in summer. When father is at home, tending to his work, mowing the lawn and keeping house alone, the wife and children go off to the holiday brisles and the country, and such movements constitute the bulk of the traffic."

"One of the big railway systems of Canada furnished a few days ago a two weeks' check on the sex of passengers in the height of summer travel. It was disclosed that eighty per cent. are females and twenty per cent. males. This disparity, however, does not exist all the year round. A similar check taken in winter disclosed about a fifty-fifty even break between the number of men and women travellers."

Canada Owes Much To Early Missionaries

Jesuit Fathers Opened North America To Civilization

The ceremony of canonization at Rome must make a deep appeal to all Canadians who are familiar with the early history of this country, regardless of whether or not they are members of the church that thus honored its devoted sons. The eight Jesuit fathers who nearly three centuries after their heroic deaths have been canonized played a great role in the opening to civilization of the northern half of this continent. No one can have read pages of Pindar man without holding their memories in reverence. The story of their exploits, and of their martyrdom is one of the most moving in the whole range of human annals.

The example that they gave was followed by a large company of other "soldiers of the cross" who carried religion and all the influences that follow in its train further and further into the outlying parts of what is now the Dominion. Our debt to these pioneer missionaries is one that cannot be over-estimated.—Edmonton Journal.

They Like Canada

Earl and Countess of Stair Favorably Impressed With Dominion

Laughingly reminding reporters who met them on their arrival a month ago, the Earl and Countess of Stair were both very ready to give their impressions of Canada, when interviewed at Montreal just before sailing for home on the Canadian Pacific "Duchess of Richmond."

"You will remember," Lady Stair said, "that we were afraid you were going to ask our opinion of the Dominion on the day we landed, and then let us off when we promised to give that at the end of the visit."

Both were enthusiastic about the Dominion, which they visited from coast to coast during their month's stay. "What really appealed to us more than anything," Lord Stair remarked, "was the hospitality of Canada. By George, they don't care what it is you want, they jolly well get it done for you."

"One of our principal interests during the visit was to see the conditions under which the cattle we shipped out here are herded. And I must say that I was disappointed to see so many Holsteins and so few Scottish cattle. The Ayrshires we sent out to British Columbia last September are in remarkably fine shape."

During their visit to the coast, the Earl and Countess paid a visit to the Agricultural College at Vancouver, where they were shown prize-winning cattle also from their own Scottish estates.

In Memory of Canadian Poet

Memorial Erected To Bliss Carman In Fredericton, N.B.

The house in Fredericton, N.B., where Bliss Carman, noted Canadian poet, was born, has been memorialized. A bronze tablet on the front of the house was recently unveiled. The inscription on the tablet reads:

"In this house Bliss Carman, Canadian bard and internationally loved poet, 1861-1929. This tablet is erected by the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire in New Brunswick, Earth of my mother earth, spirit to thee."

This is the first memorial erected to Bliss Carman, who died in Connecticut, June 8, 1929, and whose remains were brought to his native home by the Government of New Brunswick and buried at Forest Hill Cemetery, Fredericton, where a suitable monument will mark his grave. It is proposed to erect a statue of this famous son of New Brunswick in the capital of his native province and the city where he spent his boyhood days.

Mysterious Fossil Bones

Many Queer Catches Made By North Sea Fishermen

The barbed tooth of a mammoth found in the nest of a Grimby trawler, is but the latest of many queer catches made by North Sea fishermen. Not a few of the fishermen's gardens along the Norfolk coast are ornamented with fossil bones of the cave bear, elk, bison, rhinoceros, and mammoth, brought up at various times by the trawls, chiefly in certain regions about fifty miles off Grimby, sometimes called "the graveyards" or "the silver pits." Geologists suggest that the remains come from what was in prehistoric times the valley of the Rhine.

Sores Flee Before It.—There are many who have been afflicted with sores and have driven them away with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. All similarly troubled should lose no time in applying this splendid remedy, as there is nothing like it to be had. It is cheap, but its power is in no way expressed by its low price.

Work For Unemployed

Preliminary survey of the northern part of Saskatchewan, in connection with the provincial government scheme toward solution of unemployment, has been completed, said Hon. J. A. Merkle, Minister of Labor and Industries. The proposed camp scheme can now be inaugurated, he said, in co-operation with officials of the Prince Albert National Park. It has been decided 50 men may now be employed there cutting away dead and burned wood.

Little Helps For This Week

"Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord."—1 Corinthians xv. 58.

Though scoffers ask where is your gain, And mocking say your work is vain, Such scoffers die and are forgot, Work done for God, it dieth not.

Press on! press on! no doubt nor fear, From age to age this voice shall cheer:

What e'er may die and be forgot, Work done for God, it dieth not.

—Thomas Knox.

When men do anything for God, the very least thing, they never know where it will end, nor what amount of work it will do for Him. Love's secret therefore is to be always doing things for God, and not to mind because they are very little ones.

—Frederick William Faber.
